Society Turns Horse Shows To Good Account

Realizing that the mere superficial side of even a good horse show cannot interest society folk nowadays unless it have a war side also, all such events including the tremendous affair to take place in New York on November 12, and smaller events such as the faces at Laurel, and the dozens of autumn meets in all parts of the country, must yield up their wealth to the Red Cross. In fact, the blight of war will not rest upon the autumn series of horse shows.

The names of the Philadelphia women who form the committee in charge of the Red Cross work for the National Horse Show in New York next month are unusually familiar to Washington society folk, embracing the names of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Robert E. Strawbridge, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, jr., Mrs. Victor Mather, Mrs. A. J. A. Devereaux, Mrs. R. Penn Smith, jr., Miss Isabella Wanamaker, and Miss Constance Vauelain who is always seen in Washington's open-air horse show each spring.

Members of the New York committee who hope to bring down more than $100,000 for the Red Cross fund-the entire receipts to be donated-includes Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. Walter Phelps Bliss, Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Mrs. August Belmont, jr., Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg, Mrs. Robert K. Tod, Mrs. Burke-Roche, Mrs. George F. Baker, jr., Mrs. Joseph Lerocque, Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, Mrs. Edward H. Carle, Mrs. John E. Cowdin, Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. David Wagstaff, Mrs. Preston Davis, Mrs. W. Many of these women, including Mrs. Ladenburg, Mrs. Burden, Mrs. Behront, Mrs. Cowdin, Mrs. Burke-Roche, Mrs. Wagstaff, and Miss Fleitmann, are prominent riders to hounds.
